The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects ruefully on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper. While Tom is talking about his adventures, Aunt Polly’s husband, Ben, has been skipped school that afternoon and went into town. Her heart and shows her that his collar is still on from breakfast, but still, Tom’s half-brother, Huckleberry Finn, has come at Tom for a kick. Tom has sworn the dastardly deed and the aunt is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in the evening. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets a man who has found a will bequeathing him a fortune. While wandering and wondering and musing about the will, Tom and the new arrival encounter a group of people. They are all drunk and eventually chase the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and decides to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “piece of candy.” A kind of sugar, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s misbehavior and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime, looking frazzled. He has been daydreaming about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly is not pleased. She has heard that Tom has been skipping school that afternoon and went swimming in the river, even though it’s still warm from the heat. Tom’s half-brother, Huckleberry Finn, has been at the river and saw Tom there. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in the evening, and Huckleberry Finn accompanies him. They are looking for an opportunity to catch a few fish. While wandering the streets, they run into a group of boys who are playing checkers. Tom and the new arrival engage in a friendly competition and eventually chase the newcomers all the way home.
