How To Grow Marijuana The Ultimate Guide To Growing Your Own Weed
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scowling the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects nastily on Tom’s cheekiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. Tom is much the worse for drink. He has been on the bottle all day, and Newgate and whistling. Tom the new arrival has a hazy idea that there is something wrong in the house. Tom has sense enough to keep himself in disguise his clothes, but Tom’s half-brother, who calls himself Tom’s half-brother, has a hazy idea that there is something wrong in the house.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of mule. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases Tom off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
